

Howes Newsletter Monday 13th April

Thank you very much to everyone who has emailed and tweeted us photos of what you have been doing at home. You have been very busy and we are really proud of you for continuing with your learning. The teachers have put new project packs on the website. This is your work for after Easter. Have fun doing it!

Remember that you can contact us by email admin@howes.coventry.sch.uk

This week we will answer some more of the questions you have been asking us:

- My children are different ages and it is difficult to manage two project packs. Whilst the work has been planned for certain age groups, you are welcome to choose one project pack for the family and adapt the work. Ask us for help with this if you need it.

- How can I motivate my child to do more home learning?

We understand that it can be hard to motivate yourself, especially when you are away from school and your friends. Reward your child for any work that they complete – this could be house points or playing their favourite game. Send us photos or messages about good work so that we can send a well done message back.

Also remember that learning is not all about worksheets. Learning includes playing a board game, making a model, dressing up, having fun as a family and much more.

- Could we have more science experiments? The teachers are busy preparing some exciting science investigations for you. We'll put them on the website and Twitter very soon.
